WELLESLEY COLLEGE

Wellesley, Mass.

"College life . . . an adventure in the understanding of human differences"

DR. ARTHUR LEE KINSOLVING

IT has been a short road from the Freshman Source Theme to the General, sometimes steep but travelled quickly. We were Miss Knapp's last freshman class and we are the first class to "accelerate" some of its members. We have known Wellesley in peace and in war, in winter and in summer. We saw the duration's last Float Night and our Tree Day Mistress is the first to hold her court in Alumnae Hall. We have adjusted to many changes and learned strong traditions since September, 1940. It is the highlights which Legenda attempts to pick from

- The Year of Innovation
- The Year of Challenge
- The Year of Response
- The Year of Triumph

YEAR OF INNOVATION

We were often lost as "verdant freshmen", but we quickly learned the Wellesley way, the Gray Book rules, the college songs and the old traditions. We sang the Alma Mater only when a Senior was present, and we turned out the dining room lights the first spring evening strawberry shortcake was dessert.

WE THOUGHT we'd never learn for bridge games, house meetings, and around the chairs of our faculty guests on Wednesday evenings.

WILLKIE was Wellesley's choice

in 1940 when the college was predominantly Republican. The dormitory windows displayed his campaign stickers and students' sweaters were adorned with Willkie buttons. The Third Term made history freshman year, and later we elected Wendell L. Willkie

YEAR OF CHALLENGE

America went to war. A member of '44 had the first war wedding at Wellesley, and the college was drilled for air raids. Winston Churchill's challenging words called across the ocean for "singleness of purpose and steadfastness of conduct".

THE KINGS of Israel

kept us in the Bible Room for long hours.

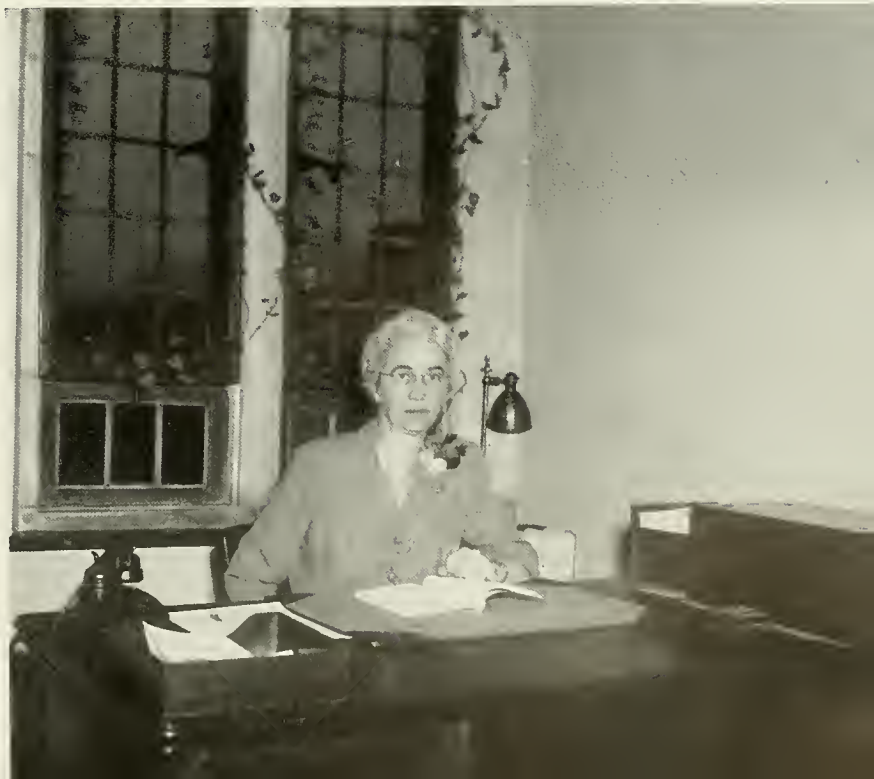
MISS LINDSAY

became our Class Dean. Throughout our last three years she guided '44 with understanding and humor. Her high academic standards and quiet dignity made us admire her from the beginning; her sympathy and interest endeared her to the class of 1944.



DECEMBER 7, 1941,

"a date which will live in infamy"...

The morning after the attack on Pearl Harbor, 11:40 classes were dismissed early so that students and professors could hear the President's message to Congress. "We will gain the inevitable triumph. So help us God."

YEAR OF RESPONSE

President McAfee became Lieutenant-Commander of the Waves, and Wellesley welcomed its largest freshman class to date, "our little sisters". The first semester ended before Christmas and we had ten weeks for winter vacation, saving fuel at Wellesley and working at home.

CAPTAIN McAfee

President of Wellesley College, leader of the Waves, and Honorary Member of the Class of 1944.

VIL JUNIORS studied

Gray Book rules in the sun at Cape Cod before our little sisters arrived.

JUNIOR SHOW . . . "the talk of the town" . . .

C'est la Guerre was a credit to Midge, Jean, and all the members of the class who wrote, directed, and enacted '44's greatest production.

LONG VACATION

was one of the most outstanding experiments we have seen tried at Wellesley. The winter of 1943 was exceptionally cold in New England, and the fuel shortage acute. Such conditions gave the Administration an opportunity to try what had long been a pet idea of several of its members, an extended midyear vacation. Exams before Christmas rounded out the first semester and we left Wellesley for three months of study, work, and rest. Many students were employed in defense factories; others trained as Nurses' Aides and hospital technicians; studious Seniors organized their notes for the General, and Political Science students worked as government internes in Washington. Education 207 was offered for the second semester. Its applicants used the long vacation to practice teaching and to learn child care in nursery schools.

MADAME CHIANG returned

MARSHALS at 1943's

Commencement in June, with our last summer vacation ahead of us.

YEAR OF TRIUMPH

The Navy trained at Wellesley and we adopted an all-college work program in the dormitories. The War Activities Committee became a major organization, and the dimout was lifted. The Allies took the offensive and the Moscow Conference presaged international organization.

THE NAVY lived in Caz and Pom,

they drilled in the Alumnae parking lot, and changed the Ball Room to a mess hall. Ensigns and Midshipmen came to step singing, played football on the Quad green, and took the 11:50 "home" at night.

STUDENTS waiting on

THOMAS B. JEFFERY

Assistant Professor of Art

IN MEMORIAM

MR. JEFFERY received his B.A. degree from Princeton University in 1927, a diploma in Art from Oxford University in 1930, the degree of Master of Arts from Princeton in 1931, and the degree of Master of Fine Arts in 1932. He came to teach Art at Wellesley in 1932.

Throughout his ten years at Wellesley Mr. Jeffery made close friends in every Senior Class. We remember him in the front row of the anditorium at all of Barn's first nights; we remember him having a cigarette between classes on the Art Building steps; we remember the evenings at 84 Leighton Road and his picnics in the country; we remember him for "Dry Bones" and the devotion of Ricky. On November 26, 1943, Wellesley lost a professor and a good friend.

ALMA MATER

To Alma Mater, Wellesley's daughters,
Altogether join and sing.
Thro' all her wealth of woods and waters,
Let your happy voices ring.
In ev'ry changing mood we love her,
Love her tow'rs and woods and lake,
Oh, changeful sky, bend blue above her!
Wake, ye birds, your chorus wake!

We'll sing her praises now and ever,
Blessed fount of truth and love.
Our heart's devotion, may it never Faithless or unworthy prove.
We'll give our lives and hopes to serve her,
Humblest, highest, noblest all;
A stainless name we will preserve her,
Answer to her ev'ry call.

1944 MARCHING SONG

Forty-Four will go on marching now and evermore,
We'll raise the banner high,
We shall be forever true to Wellesley,
Even though time goes by.
    Forward to victory in all we do,
    We'll always cherish both the red and the blue so
Forty-Four will go on marching while our spirits soar;
Tradition shows us all,
Evermore will we be grateful that we
Answered to Wellesley's call.

We've been guided by our Alma Mater,
We shall try to carry on her fame;
Over all must fly the blue of Wellesley
As we exalt her name.
    We shall remember the tow'r and lake,
    "Sed ministrare" is the challenge we take so
Forty-Four, across the campus now our voices ring;
We're in our stride today,
We will be forever proud to march ahead
In the Wellesley way.

GOOD NEWS TRAVELS FAST

And it's good news too when a Wellesley student finds expenses of accident or sickness largely taken care of by her Student's Reimbursement Policy through Connecticut General.

In times like these when all living expenses have increased it would surely be GOOD NEWS to know that accident or sickness costs wouldn't be a heavy extra load on your family's budget.

Quite probably you already have this protection . . . so many parents sign up for it at enrollment time. It might be well, though, for you to check to be sure you are covered by this plan. If you find you are not, be sure you are included at the earliest opportunity.

. . . And members of the graduating class! You may join the large group of Wellesley alumnae who continue their accident and health protection by having individual Connecticut General policies after leaving college. There are Connecticut General representatives in almost every large community who will gladly help you.

"COORDINATION"—not a large word but a word America is becoming more conscious of every day as we bend our united might to the struggle before us and Indnstry keeps ponderous step with the rythmic sweep of our Armed Forces. A small word—but it embodies a principle upon which our success depends. It means the strictest economy of Money, Materials, and Time! B J H learned to appreciate that principle a long time ago. It is for that reason that we have consistently advocated the coordination of all factors of yearbook production. We are proud to have demonstrated this principle in the production of this yearbook.
